

Please stop with all the over regulation and worry about the things you are supposed to worry about: technical compliance.